

Big Sky Wildflower Festival

July 15 9-10:30 am

Wildflower Photography Workshop with Paul Holdorf

For this event, everything from a cell phone to a full frame digital camera is fine.

We'll cover a few simple things about how to use your gear. We'll go over various styles of wildflower photography and cover the basics of composition. The main goal will be to learn to capture a scene how you envision it in your mind. All skill levels are welcome!

Paul Holdorf is a prolific and talented photographer whose work can be found at www.singingskyphotography.com. He is the current President of the Camera Club of Bozeman and has been published in Montana Outdoors, Outdoor Photographer, Landscape Photographer, and a National Geographic German language guidebook to Glacier National Park. His deep love for the natural world is expressed in the unique perspectives of Montana's wildflowers, the Milky Way, and Big Sky Landscapes.
